RE: Canadian Ethnocultural Council in collaboration with the Canadian Ethnic Media Association present "Together in Canada - Ensemble au Canada" a Dinner Gala & Award Event – on June 24, 2017

Canada has come a long way since its Confederation on July 1, 1867. In this historical year, 2017, Canadians from coast to coast to coast celebrate their accomplishments over the past 150 years and with pride and determination look towards nourishing Canada's great future. Multiculturalism has and continues to play a most important role in not only the realization of these accomplishments but in building a strong and prosperous Canada.

As a not-for-profit and non-partisan national organization the Canadian Ethnocultural Council (CEC) has for over 36 years been an active contributor in advancing Canadian multiculturalism, a cornerstone of our Canadian heritage and identity. The CEC continues to encourage and engage ethnocultural organizations and communities to foster harmony and acceptance of our diversity and multiculturalism. However, essential to the success of every entity and/or society and in particular our diversity/multiculturalism is the existence of the elements of understanding, mutual respect, co-operation and working together. It is through these elements that we are able to advance the cultural heritage of all Canadians and even a more united Canada.

The Canadian Ethnic Media Association (CEMA), founded in 1978, is comprised of professionals engaged in print, broadcast, web journalism, and writing, reflecting Canada's diversity. CEMA supports the principles of Canadian citizenship, multiculturalism and the right of free expression without ethnocentric bias.

Sharing the common ground of our diversity and multiculturalism, the CEC, in collaboration with CEMA, are pleased to host and invite you to "Together in Canada - Ensemble au Canada", a Dinner Gala & Award Event to be held at the Riviera Parque & Convention Center, in the City of Vaughan (2800 Highway No.7 West), Ontario on June 24, 2017. This dinner gala and fundraising event will not only be the launching of the CEC Award for Multiculturalism but feature a one of a kind multicultural menu and entertainment.

With many of the CEC and CEMA friends, members and sponsors already indicating their intentions to participate at this year's special gala, we are expecting over 500 guests to enjoy this elegant formal event.

To order/reserve your tickets please contact any of the individuals on the attached flyer or by email at togetherincanada2017@hotmail.com. We also attach the Advertisement/Ticket Agreement for your completion and sponsorship.

Let us all come together in our diversity, bridge our cross-cultural ties, and thereby continue to strengthen this great country of ours, Canada, for the betterment of all.

We are looking forward to your participation and in making this gala event a most memorable and successful one.

Together in Canada - Ensemble au Canada !

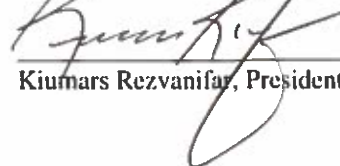

Sincerely yours,

Canadian Ethnocultural Council
